SPRINGER ON THE PROSPECTS FOR 1896.

Ex-Congressman Springer is credited with the prediction that the democracy will be frightened into making a square declaration in its national platform in 1896 in favor of free silver, which he thinks will compel the republicans to antagonize this policy and nominate Al- pointed remarks: lison. He believes that the republicans will carry all the eastern states on that division, that the democrats will sweep the South, and that the West will hold the battle-ground between the parties. Silver, he predicts, is sure to be the burning issue of the campaign. The tariff will be kept in the background by both sides, and the rest of the questions which have been up recently will drop out of sight in the next twelve months.

This view of democratic policy is of interest from the fact that the Illinois statesman is opposed to it, and presuma bly will use his influence against its adoption. He is not a free silver man. On most of the divisions in congress in the past two or three years he was on he would regret to see his paaty declare in favor of throwing the mints wide open to silver in advance of an international agreement in that direction. It is clear that he thinks the Bland element will have more influence in dictating the course of his party than many democrats and republicans are disposed to assign it. The recent manifesto of the Bland men had earnestness and eloquence, of course, but it was not stronger in these qualities than were some of its forerunners. Perhaps a majority of the at least that it is so reported, on pretty delegates to two or three of the most recent democratic national conventions have favored free silver, yet the conservative element has always prevailed, and most republicans believe that it will next year also.

Allison has not, in recent republican calculations, figured conspicuously on the roll of presidential possibilities, but in national conventions the unexpected often happens. For a few years the distinguished Iowan has, in the popular mind, dropped out of the line of succeslike Reed and McKinley, have been being carried out. coming to the front, and Allison has been lost sight of in a considerable degree. Allison is probably the ablest republican in the country, next to Shercaptivate the popular fancy or to stampede conventions. As the candidate he undonbtedly would poll the regular party vote in most of the states, which, in the present conditions, and in those I kely to prevail in 1896, would elect him, but age is one of the objections which stand against him now. He will be 68 when the next president is inaudent was on taking office except the first Harrison, who was about the same age, and who lived only a month after reaching the white house.

TO KILL THE LOCKS.

It is reported, and the report seems to be reliable, that the supervising engineer at the Cascade Locks has forwarded a recommendation to the authorities at Washington that the upper bulkhead in the canal be not removed until the side walls of the canal are completed to the extra height, which the engineers consider necessary to protect the works from such floods as we had last year. That the walls should eventually be raised to the height recommended is perhaps proper; but that the bulkhead should be left until that time is absurd. The original plans placed the walls above the high water of 1876, which, with the exception of last year, was the highest known since the whites first came to the country, eighty years ago. The only object in leaving the bulkhead would be to prevent damage to the works by a higher water than that of 1876, and as that height has only been ready for it. equalled once in eighty years, it does seem that the engineer is suddenly struck with an over-abundance of caution. It seems also that there must be allowed to complete their contract according to the terms thereof, the canal will be open and boats that now ply the lower Columbia, will find their way to In the first place, the present contract reichstag's course.

cannot of course be finished until the bulkhead is taken out; the bulkhead cannot be taken out until another appropriation is made, and another appropriation cannot be made until the closing days of the next congress, which will be more than a year. The question arises as to whether an engineer and an unreasonable engineer at that, is to be permitted to tie up the work at the locks for an indefinite time, and to retard the development of the great inland country for years to satisfy a whim, or to lengthen and fatten a personal job.

We have waited patiently the completion of the canal, but we are not disposed to wait yet another five years at the dictation of an ass, whether it be a government animal or not.

A NEW DANGER.

A return tide has set in with our forare returning as come over. But the serious part is that it is the educated, law-abiding immigrants who are returning to their native lands whilst the lawless, ignorant rable from Southern and Central Europe are pouring in in still greater numbers. On this subject The Interior of Chicago has the following

"There is a general jubilation in the East over the fact that the tide of immigration has turned, and thousands are going back to the old world every week from American ports. But so far as we are willing to return to it. But the drastic measures introduced in every for vast herds of sheep and cattle, and legislative body of Europe to purge yield abundant crops of wheat. Grant, Wallowa, and the counties along Unless measures for our relief are promptly introduced we shall have fewer their wonderful mines, that are only yet immigrants, but worse ones."

We called attention Saturday to the fact that the attempt is being made, or good authority, to delay the completion of the locks at the Cascades indefinitely, by forbidding the removal of the upper bulkhead until after the entire locks high-water mark of 1894. We beleive this attempt is being made, and we believe, further, that it will succeed, unless action is taken at once to prevent it. We urge upon our citizens the necessity of prompt and vigorous action. First, to learn if there is truth in this rumor, and second, to take such steps as sion. THE COMING PEOPLE.

The tide of immigration is already Two causes have combined to cause thisone the failure of crops in some of the western states; the other the fact, which is becoming tolerably well known in the East, that in Oregon the crops never fail, and want and suffering are unknown. This stream of incomers should be somewhat controlled by the people already here. Efforts should be made to divide it up, and to this end the fullest information should be given concerning the different parts of the state, so that the newcomer could suit himself, and select that portion of the state for a home best suited to his ideas. This, in such states as Illinois, Iowa, and the other prairie states, would not be necessary, because there is little difeign immigration and nearly as many ference between the different sections of true, if it isn't. According to the story, those states. Here it is a necessity, because with our vast area, our mountains and valleys, our watered Willamette and our dryer hills and rolling plains of Eastern Oregon, our magnificent mountain range, dividing the state and giving us a variety of climate, and consequently of products, make it impossible to convey any idea of any one section of the state by a description of any other part.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 22, 1895. Mr. Cleveland and Secretary Gresham ought to blush for shame every time they think about demanding the recall of Mr. Thurston, the Hawaiian minister. occulated with it. It has been a long It is but another added to the long list of unmanly acts with which Hawaii has been dealt by this administration. It is simply childish for Secretary Gresham to pretend that the recall was asked for because Minister Thurston gave information to the newspapers about Hawaiian matters before he gave it to the department of state. That is merely an excuse. Thurston's real offence has been that he was always wide awake to prevent any misrepresentation of Hawaiian affairs being accepted by the American people, and was consequently constantly opposed to the administration and its policy. Secretary Gresham vance information to the newspapers any crime when it can be made to serve his own purpose. It has been scarcely steamer, before it had been cabled to Spain. He not only gave out the dispatch, but he compelled those who used it to do so under a Madrid date line, so as to leave the impression that it was setting in from the East; a tide that given out in Madrid and not in Washpromises to culminate in a regular wave. ington-a senseless bit of deception, which was at once discovered and exposed. It will be remembered that Mr. Cleveland promised congress, in a special message, that he would keep it advised concerning our relations with Hawaii. Yet in the face of that promise a communication asking that Minister Thurston be recalled was sent to the Hawaiian government on Feb. 21st, eleven days before the adjournment of congress, and not one word was said to congress about it. It is not surprising that Senator Frye should say: "It looks to me like of gold coins. As each coin weights the a very small piece of business."

They are telling a story in Washington at the expense of ex-Congressman Bryan, of Nebraska, that hits off Mr. Bryan's ruling trait good enough to be the book was delivered Bryan sent for sold me that book under false pretences." "I beg pardon, but you are snapped out: "Didn't you tell me that raphy of every man, living and dead, for April. who has made an impression upon the world's affairs?" "Yes, sir; and it does." "It does nothing of the sort; my name isn't in it." "Why should it be?" retorted the book agent.

Although the senate rejected the nomination of Alfred D. Tinsley to be postmaster at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, the home of Senator Pettigrew, by more than a three-quarter vote-42 to 13-Mr. Cleveland this week signed Tinsley's commission as postmaster. Evidently Mr. Cleveland liked to be jumped on by the senate, and he will certainly again get jumped on about this appointment, when congress meets again. Sibley and the new silver party are already reported to be on the verge of divorce. Sibley is rich, but he is also shrew-that's one reason why he is rich-and those who had an idea that they would be allowed to have the run of the Sibley money bags in return for having suggested him as a presidential candidate have already discovered how badly mistaken they were. In other words, Mr. Sibley declines to put up money for moonshine, and in consequence the promoters of the silver party no longer even pretend to believe that Sibley is a great man who only needs to have his statesmanship developed. Even the populists have refused to join the silver party. This isn't a one idea country. There never has been and there never will be a successful political party which confines itself to a single idea. That a majority-a very large majority-of the people of this country believe in bi-metalism is certain, but can be distributed throughout the state that they will sink all other beliefs and ever be merged into one political party isn't probable. Let no man make the mistake of supposing that silver is going to be the deciding factor in next year's presidential campaign, or that any third campaign. The fight is going to be between the republican and democratic parties, and it is reasonably certain that the republican platform will declare for bi-metalism, and probable that the democratic platform will do the same, or straddle the question, notwithstanding the scheming now going on to re-nominate Mr. Cleveland on a gold basis platform. Society women often feel the effect of too much gayety— balls, theatres, and teas in rapid succession find them worn out, or "run-down" by the end of the sea son. They suffer from nervousness, sleeplessness and irregularities. The smile and good spirits take flight. It is time to accept the help offered in Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's a medicine which was discovered and used by a prominent physician for many years in all cases of "female complaint" and the nervous disorders which arise from it. The "Prescription" is a powerful uterine tonic and nervine, especially adapted to woman's delicate wants for it regulates and promotes all the natural functions, builds up, invigorates and cures.

Many women suffer from nervous prostration, or exhaustion, owing to congestion or to disorder of the special functions. The waste products should be quickly got rid of, the local source of irritation relieved and the system invigorated with the "Prescription." In the center of the brass top is a small round hole, a little larger than the sovereign, which is filled by the round plate of a delicate balance. Upon this balance the sovereigns or half-sovereigns, according to the machine, slide, one at a time, by their own weight from an inclined halftube, in which they are placed by the handful, forming a long inclined cylinder balance, the latter sinks. Mr. J. C. Stephens, of Stephens & Beetem, proprietors of Carlisle Carpet House, one of the most prominent firms in the Cumberland Valley, wrote on Oct. 3, 1892:

"I was taken sick on the 24th of last April" "I was taken sick on the 24th of last April with norvous prostration, and had the daily attendance of three of our best physicians, one of them visiting me twice each day. The result was that at the end of four months I was an helpless invalid. Had run down from 178 to 120 pounds. Did not get thirty minutes sleep in each twenty-four hours. My condition was simply terrible! About four weeks ago, I began taking Dr. Milles' Restorative Nervine, Tonic and Pills. I have gained 35 pounds in weight, can eat and sleep, and in fact, feel as well as I ever did. I felt the good effects of your remedies inside of 48 hours."

SEVENTEEN MONTHS LATER.

. Stephens writes again under date of March 14, 1894.

After my great recovery, as I wrote you before, scores of people stopped me on the streets, came to see me at my store and wrote me from different parts of this and adjoining States, to all of whom I told the story of the wonderful curative powers of your remedies and am only too glad to herald their praises.

The wife of a professor in one of our colleges called to thank me for telling her about your Nervine. She had been a sufferer from insomnia, weaknesses, etc., for years; she said she had felt the benefits at once. The President of the same college, also thanked me for the benefit he had received from using your Nervine at my suggestion. I tell you it's a pleasure to recommend your remedies Yours truly.
